

Off-campus internship 2020: Support for participating in ONLINE International conferences

【Intent】

Under ordinary circumstances, the WINGS-LST program supports a Summer Internship Program (about two months) and Overseas Training (about two weeks). However, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, we have been experiencing difficulties to implement due to travel restrictions. As an alternative, we have decided to support the active participation of WINGS-LST course students in ONLINE international conferences.

【Details】

- Select one or more ONLINE international conferences or symposia and apply for “WINGS-LST Laboratory Training” or “GPLLI Off-campus internship”. We also recommend participating in an international conference or symposium in a different field of expertise that you would not usually have a chance to make a presentation. Doing so, will likely contribute to adding a new perspective to your research. You are able to apply without making a presentation. Obtain the approval of your supervisor if you are to make a presentation
- In the report (about A4 2pages), explain in detail about the content of specific presentations (2 or 3) that you felt were especially important and noteworthy, and their likely role in the development of your own future research. The submitted report will be evaluated to determine if one credit will be given.
- You can apply multiple times. However, even in that case, a maximum of one credit will be given. You are asked to submit the report for all participating international conferences / symposia that are supported by the Program.
- This support will be implemented only this year as the “WINGS-LST Laboratory Training” or “GPLLI Off-campus internship”. From next year onward, we plan to have course students’ voluntary planning and overseas training as usual. Naturally, we will monitor the situation and judge accordingly.
